199TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER

On the 27th day of June, 1997, came on Plaintiff DSC Communications Corporation's ("DSC") Motion for Temporary Restraining Order and/or Temporary Injunction (the "Motion"). Based on the specific facts set forth in the verified Petition and Affidavit of Wayne Jones, as well as the arguments set forth in the Motion, immediate, irreparable injury will result to DSC unless Brown is immediately restrained as requested in the Petition.

In brief, DSC has presented evidence that Brown violated his contractual obligations and duties by refusing to disclose in its entirety the technological process that Brown conceived during his employment by DSC and related to DSC's business, and by wrongfully asserting that he owned all legal rights to such process. DSC has presented evidence that following the execution of this contract, and while Brown remained an employee of DSC, Brown "developed a method of converting machine executable binary code into a high level source code form using logic and data abstractions." (Hereinafter referred to as the "Solution"). The Solution relates to DSC's business and Brown has refused to disclose in its entirety and assign all rights in the Solution to DSC. Moreover, he has recently threatened to disclose, sell, assign or transfer the Solution to third parties outside the United States and to develop the Solution independent of DSC.

If Brown is permitted to continue in the aforementioned conduct, DSC will suffer immediate and irreparable injury. It is therefore

ORDERED, ADJUDGED, and DECREED that the Clerk of the Court issue an ~~Amended~~ Temporary Restraining Order with ~~out~~ notice to Brown; that Brown, his employees, agents, assignees or other persons and/or entities acting in concert with him who receive actual or constructive notice of the Order be restrained and enjoined from:

- a. Disclosing, selling, assigning, or transferring the Solution to any person or entity other than DSC;
- b. Negotiating the disclosure, sale, assignment, or transfer of the Solution to any person or entity other than DSC;
- c. Disclosing or negotiating the disclosure of any information or details concerning the Solution to anyone other than DSC;
- d. Further developing, refining or implementing the Solution; and
- e. Destroying any material or records (including computer files or disks) that relate to or evidence the Solution or his effort to market the Solution.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, ADJUDGED, and DECREED that the Clerk of the Court issue an ~~Amended~~ Temporary Restraining Order with ~~out~~ notice to Brown; that Brown, his employees, agents, assignees or other persons and/or entities acting in concert with him who receive actual or constructive notice of the Order be and enjoined to:

- a. ~~Disclose the Solution, in its entirety, to DSC; and~~ (EPP) (4)
- b. Preserve the Solution.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, ADJUDGED, and DECREED that this Temporary Restraining Order shall continue in effect until the conclusion of a hearing on the temporary injunction hereafter set, or until further order of this Court. It is further

(EPP) (4)

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED that DSC shall present its claim for a mandatory injunction requiring disclosure of the Solution to DSC at the temporary injunction hearing, and that Brown's refusal or failure to comply with any such determination will be argued by DSC to constitute contempt of court.
